DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 7-10 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 7 and 17 recite the limitation "the flat portions" in lines 3-4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim or the claim from which they depend.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3,7,8,11,13,17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Applicant's admitted Prior art shown in Figure 7.

Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) shows a steering shaft support structure for a vehicle for uneven ground operation in which front wheels and rear wheels are suspended from a body frame via a suspension and the front wheels can be steered with a handle via a steering shaft mounted rotatably on the body frame, the steering support structure includes a cross beam (116 and 114) being placed in spanning relation between left and right pipes composing the body frame and a steering shaft (111) being supported by the cross beam. The cross beam of AAPA is made up of elements 116 and 114 and therefore is considered to have "a first arcuate portion formed on a center portion thereof".

AAPA shows a front holder (113) with an arcuate portion formed at a central portion thereof. The method of forming the front holder, which is claimed as press/bend molding, has not been given patentable weight.

The first and second arcuate portions interlockingly support the steering shaft on the body frame in a rotatable manner.

There is a bushing (112) mounted on the cross beam for rotatably mounting the steering shaft relative to the cross beam.

The cross beam (as it is assembled with the arcuate clamping portion 114) includes an arcuate portion at a central portion thereof and flat portions at both ends thereof with a protruding wall formed to protrude rearwardly from the upper edge of the arcuate portion (as is inherent with the duplicate part of half 113).

The cross beam (116, 114) further includes left and right front mount portions. These left and right front mount portions are formed at lower portions of "the flat portions" since at least a portion of the cross member (116 and 114) is flat and the mount portions mount the cross beam on the respective left and right pipes composing the body frame.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's admitted Prior Art (in Figure 7) in view of JP09-207855.

Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (Fig. 7) has been discussed in the prior rejection.

However, AAPA does not show a tank support portion on the cross beam.

JP '855 discloses a cross beam for supporting a steering shaft and further having a tank support portion (102).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the cross beam member portion (116) of AAPA so as to provide a tank supporting portion as taught by JP '855 so as to combine the steering shaft support and tank support and further enhance the supporting of other portions of the vehicle.

Response to Arguments

With respect to Applicant's argument that the AAPA does not show a cross member in the manner claimed, Examiner disagrees and maintains the rejection. The AAPA shows a cross member (116,114) as discussed in the rejection above that includes the structural details and relations claimed. There is no reason why the term "cross member" cannot be interpreted as being both of these elements combined.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-6 and 14-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 9-10 and 19-20 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
